

Holymead Primary School

Behaviour Policy

Rationale

Everyone at Holymead Primary School has the right to feel welcome, safe and secure. Our school is committed to actively working to prevent all incidents of inappropriate behaviour and ensure that all members of the school community achieve their full potential. Children should become aware of their rights and learn how to respect the rights of others and their environment, leading to a culture of supportive and independent learning. This will link directly to UNICEF and the Rights Respecting Schools agenda (Article 1 and 2).

Purposes/aims

- To promote an atmosphere in which effective learning may take place
- To create a friendly, caring and secure environment in which our children may develop a sense of pride in themselves, their achievements and their school
- To ensure the promotion of equality of opportunity for all pupils
- To develop in our pupils a responsible attitude to themselves, other people and their property
- To ensure the safety of all members of the school
- To promote respect for all members of the wider community

Guidelines

- All staff need to be involved in ensuring that our children develop positive attitudes and modes of behaviour
- All staff must realise their position as a role model for appropriate behaviour
- All children need to be involved in making and maintaining the rules. They have a right to say what they think should happen...and to have their opinions taken into account. (Article 12)
- All rules should be seen to be fair and applied consistently yet flexibly, taking into account individual circumstances
- Expectations should be phrased positively e.g. "walk slowly" rather than "don't run"
- Staff need to use a quiet and calm manner
- Sanctions for inappropriate behaviour should be clear and applied consistently
- Rewards/Sanctions for work expectations should also be clear
- Sanctions should be appropriate, fair and relevant and take into account individual circumstances (Article 39).
- Discipline should respect children's dignity (Article 28). Therefore, sanctions should not humiliate but allow the child to learn from their mistakes
- Children should be given time to reflect and discuss their behaviour.

Class Charters

As part of the Rights Respecting School agenda, pupils should be involved in the rule making process and create classroom charters to develop behaviour management (Article 12). The rules need to cover the things such as:

- Listening to adults and each other
- Treating adults and each other with respect
- Respecting the right of others
- Being kind and tolerant
- Trying to do our best
- Helping others to learn
- Working appropriately -quietly and sensibly/independently or collaboratively
- Playing appropriately e.g. sharing, not hurting others
- Keeping hands and feet to ourselves
- Looking after the school environment and respecting property
- Upholding the rules agreed
- Rewards and sanctions in response to their behaviour

These can be linked to Article 31; all children have a right to relax and play, and to join in a wide range of activities and also Article 14; the right to think and believe what they want...so long as they are not stopping other people from enjoying their rights.

Emergency Cards

An emergency card should be situated in every class room in order for help to be summoned quickly in the event of an emergency e.g. child out of control or a collapsed member of staff.

Rewards

Holymead Primary School recognises that 'young people should be encouraged to reach the highest level of education they are capable of' (Article 28). Therefore, pupils should receive appropriate recognition for good work or behaviour. Rewarding positive/appropriate behaviour is usually far more effective than punishing poor behaviour. Rewards and praise are more effective when they are specific as they help the child to focus on how to do things better. The following rewards are used:

- Verbal or written praise
- School stickers, smiley faces
- Individual certificates for work, attitudes, behaviour and attendance-receiving praise in assembly
- Sent to the head teacher for doing something particularly well
- Parents spoken to/phone call home

EYFS

Teachers use a rainbow behaviour system. Children start on the sunshine each day. Then for good behaviour and good work they move up the rainbow and receive a sticker at the end of the day. If they don't follow the Class Charter they move to the rain cloud and then the thunder cloud. On the thunder cloud they are seen by a member of SLT. Children are able to move back up again by improving their behaviour.

KS1

Children's good work and behaviour is recorded in the Praise Book and the children receive recognition in assembly and a sticker to show parents. Children's names are displayed on the achievement wall in the entrance hall.

Children have 'choosing time' on Friday afternoon but some of this time can be lost for poor behaviour.

KS2

Positive behaviour can lead to pupils being chosen as 'star of the week'.

Golden time can be earned at the end of each term. Individuals may lose time for poor behaviour.

Sanctions

The sanctions' structure has been discussed and accepted by the whole school. We expect pupils to realise that appropriate/positive behaviour is rewarded and unacceptable behaviour results in sanctions. We aim to help children understand that they have rights and that they cannot take away the rights of others. We recognise that pupils' individual needs should be taken into consideration when determining appropriate sanctions. These may include, but are not limited to, Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND) and Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACEs).

The nature and severity of a pupil's breach of our Class Charters will determine at which level the child is reprimanded in the following guidelines for Sanctions.

The Behaviour and Attitude Charter needs to be displayed and followed. This is written in a child-friendly way and follows the same sanctions below.

Sanctions

Stage 1: The child is reminded of the class charter/school rules/playground charter and is reprimanded by the member of staff who witnessed the incident. This member of staff should inform the child's class teacher who may reinforce disapproval of the inappropriate behaviour. Children will be taught how to improve their behaviour so the incident doesn't happen again. (Child-friendly Charter: Warning stage)

Stage 2: If the child misbehaves again or for more serious incidents they can be moved to work by themselves or if appropriate they can be sent to a different class with a message e.g. please have this child for 10 minutes. Foundation Stage, have a designated place to allow the child to consider their behaviour/actions for a few minutes. May be reported to Senior Leadership Team (SLT) and child has to miss playtime. (Child-friendly Charter: Warning, Miss Play Time, Time out of Class)

Stage 3: A further infringement or a serious breach of school rules will result in the child being sent to the head teacher/senior leadership. A consequence is usually to miss one play time in the first instance and one or two whole day's play times if repeated or serious. Serious breaches of rules and persistent misbehaviour will be recorded in the head's Behaviour Book. Parents/carers will be informed of persistent inappropriate behaviour or any serious misdemeanours. If the problem persists (2-3 consecutive weeks) the child's parents/carers will be contacted again, a meeting arranged and the child moved to Stage 4. (Child-friendly Charter: Warning, Miss Play Time, Time out of Class, Speak to Parents)

It is very unusual for a child to go beyond Stage 3.

Stage 4: Where there is a series of breaches of school rules the child is placed on a daily Behaviour Report and/or Pastoral Support Plan. The school's SENDCO will review this report after one week and feedback to the child and their parents/carers.

- Stage 4 may include isolated working/ internal suspension. The child comes to school but works independently away from their peers including play and lunchtime, for one or more days.
- Stage 4 an internal suspension, aka seclusion, may also be used where a child knowingly and directly abuses another child, for instance following a circle time on racist, homophobic or disablist language the child then directs this inappropriate language at another child. Parents will be informed of this.

Stage 5: Fixed Term Suspension (see Flow chart)- Serious breaches of the school rules may result in fixed term suspensions for a period or between 1-5 days (or lunchtime suspension) with work set for completion at home. The school will suspend for serious & unacceptable actions by pupils – including on the way to school and going home from school. These will follow the formal Bristol Suspension/Exclusion Procedure and DfE guidance on Suspension/Exclusion. The Chair of Governors will be informed of the suspension/exclusion; in addition, outside agencies may be contacted.

Stage 6: Second and third Fixed-Term Suspension within the same academic year.

Stage 7: Permanent Exclusion. If the unacceptable behaviour continues or if a pupil is particularly abusive or violent then permanent exclusion may be necessary. The school will exclude for serious & unacceptable actions by pupils – including on the way to school and going home from school. A decision to exclude a pupil permanently should only be taken:

- in response to a serious breach or persistent breaches of the school's behaviour policy and
- where allowing the pupil to remain in school would seriously harm the education or welfare of the pupil or others in the school.

Permanent Exclusion is a last resort when all other actions are deemed to have failed.

SUSPENSION/EXCLUSIONS (Fixed Period and Permanent) If a child is involved in an incident involving the use of abusive language (including any kind of racism, sexism, harassment, victimisation and homophobia), violence or vandalism they will be sent to the head or deputy head. Parents will be informed and a sanction administered as appropriate. In some cases, this may involve a Fixed Period Suspension/exclusion or in extreme cases Permanent Exclusion from school. The school will exclude for serious & unacceptable actions by pupils – including on the way to school and going home from school. The head teacher has the authority to exclude pupils and will follow the Local Authority and DfE Suspension/exclusion Guidance when considering a fixed term or permanent suspension/exclusion. If a child is at risk of suspension/exclusion a Pastoral Support Plan will be put in place to promote positive behaviour. Professional advice will be sought as necessary.

See Appendices 1, 2 and 3 for further information.

Under guidelines from the DfE the head teacher and staff are able to:

- Screen and search pupils for banned items including mobile phones (see mobile phone policy)
- Use reasonable force or make other physical contact
- Discipline beyond the school gate
- Provide pastoral care for school staff accused of misconduct
- The head teacher will decide when a multi-agency assessment should be considered for pupils who display continuous disruptive behaviour

Restraint

Holymead Primary School has adopted the local authority 'Policy and Procedures for Dealing with Unacceptable Behaviour and Positive Handling'. Under legislation staff may use 'reasonable force' to restrain children or adults who are causing or likely to cause harm to themselves or others. Interventions should be proportionate and necessary. Adults in school are expected to be trained in appropriate ways to handle and restrain children and defend themselves against aggressive adults. The school follows the 'Team Teach' positive handling guidelines. 'Team Teach' is an accredited, award-winning provider of positive behaviour management training, equipping individuals and teams...to deal with challenging situations and behaviours in ways that lead to desirable outcomes and positive relationships'.

The following guidelines are a brief summary of the local authority guidelines on touch and restraint:

- Physical intervention should be to avert an immediate danger of injury to any person or immediate danger to the property of any person and only used as a last resort
- No more force should be used than is reasonably necessary in the circumstances
- Physical restraint should only be used when all other alternatives have failed
- The head teacher or senior teacher should be summoned as soon as possible
- The level and duration of restraint should be as little as necessary to restore safety in the situation.
- There must be no pressure to the throat or chest. Handling must not restrict breathing
- Weight must not be applied to the spine, across the chest or in the abdominal area
- There must be no touching in the chest, buttocks or genital areas
- Verbal reassurance should be continually offered to lower the person's anger or distress
- Children should not be restrained on the ground but rather in a standing position or on chairs as demonstrated in training
- If a child is in a heightened state of distress they will be given time to calm down before any discussions take place.

Any incident of restraint must be reported to the head teacher and a record made in the Bound Book which is kept for 75 years after the child's DoB. The record should include:

- Details of when and where the incident took place
- Circumstances/factors which led to the incident
- The duration and nature of physical restraint
- The names of anyone involved including witnesses
- A description of any injury sustained by pupils or adults and any medical attention needed
- A description of any action taken after the incident

Touch

It may be appropriate to touch or hold a child at certain times. It would be deemed appropriate to touch pupils in the following circumstances:

- Giving a hug if a child is in distress or unwell
- When a child needs help dressing e.g. for PE
- Changing a child when they've had an accident (under the supervision of staff)
- Guiding a child to a space

- When a child's attention needs to be directed
- When first aid needs to be given

It would be deemed unacceptable to touch a child

- In genital or private areas
- If they don't want physical contact
- If there have been previous issues with physical contact
- If cultural background prohibits it

Children need to be informed that there are acceptable and unacceptable ways to touch adults or other children, including not hitting, kicking or touching in private areas.

In the event of restraint or inappropriate touch, the head teacher/chair of governors will determine whether there should be further action. The head teacher should inform parents/carers and the chair of governors where necessary, and the subsequent outcome recorded. Child Protection Procedures should be followed.

Monitoring and Evaluating the Policy

Comparing the monitoring to the purposes and guidelines ensures the effectiveness of the policy. Ways of monitoring the policy are set out here:

- Seek pupils' views e.g. through circle time, assembly, pupil meetings
- Report pupils' and adults' views at staff meetings
- Monitor children's behaviour and work and give age appropriate feedback-verbal and written where necessary
- Monitoring the Praise Book, Bound Book and Behaviour Books to ensure fair and equitable treatment and to follow up any patterns of behaviour etc
- Training to use appropriate methods of restraint and touch needs to be continuously updated and practised

Article 28:

All children and young people have a right to a primary education, which should be free. Wealthy countries should help poorer countries achieve this. Discipline in schools should respect children's human dignity. Young people should be encouraged to reach the highest level of education they are capable of.

Article 18:

Both parents share responsibility for bringing up their children.

Flowchart for Fixed Term Suspension/exclusions

Decision: Head teacher, acting head teacher, or teacher in charge of a PRU takes the decision to exclude a pupil for a fixed period.

Contact parent: The head teacher should ensure that a parent/carer has been contacted immediately, ideally by telephone and is available, if appropriate, to arrange collection and supervision of the pupil. The child's welfare must always be the prime consideration.

Lunchtime suspension/exclusion: Pupils who are disruptive during the lunch time may be excluded just for the duration of the lunch time. Lunchtime suspension/exclusion will count as half a day for statistical purpose and for parents to make representation but are not counted in the school's 6th day duty to provide full-time.	Suspension/exclusion during morning session: The suspension/exclusion takes effect from the afternoon session, notice must be given to the parent before the start of the afternoon session.	Suspension/exclusion during afternoon session: if the suspension/exclusion takes effect from the next school day. Notice to the parent must be given before the start of that school day. If the suspension/exclusion takes place from that afternoon, the notice must be given at the end of the afternoon session

Written notice: The head teacher must give a written notice to the parents informing them of:

- The precise period and the reasons of the suspension/exclusion;
  - The parent's duties during the first five days;
- The parents right to make representation to the Governing body and how the pupil may be involved in this;
  - The person the parent should contact if they wish to make such representation;
- The arrangement made by the school to set and mark work for the pupil during the initial 5 days of the suspension/exclusion;
- If relevant, the school day on which the pupil will be provided with full-time education; and
  - If relevant details of a reintegration interview.

The head must inform the Governing Body if a pupil is being excluded for more than 15 days in any one term. Pupils can be excluded for one or more fixed periods, which when aggregated, do not exceed 45 school days in any one school year.

Education provision during the suspension/exclusion:

- The school has a duty to arrange suitable full-time educational provision from and including the 6th consecutive day of the suspension/exclusion.
- Where a Looked After Child is excluded provision should be in place from the 1st day of the suspension/exclusion.
- Schools in the former BIP still receiving additional funding should make provision from the first day of the suspension/exclusion.

If the school or the LA considers that parental influence could be better brought to bear in the behaviour of the pupil, a parenting contract may be offered. If the parent fails to engage with the school or LA in attempting to improve the child's behaviour, the school or LA may consider applying to the Magistrate's Court to compel the parent to comply with certain requirement. See related guidance.
